

It was rumoured, on Saturday, that relays of horses have been placed, at convenient distances, between Washington and New York, for the purpose of conveying the Report of the Committee of the House of Representatives relative to the Bank of the United States, to the latter place with the utmost despatch.