

Judge Clayton, of Georgia, has avowed himself a decided nullifier. His avowal is made in a letter of three columns, published in the Milledgeville Journal of the thirteenth instant. He considers "nullification the rightful remedy," and says that the state of Georgia has already repeatedly nullified the laws of the United States. So she has. The Judge is in favour of the re-election of Gen. Jackson, as are all the nullifiers of Georgia.