

CONGRESS.

In the Senate on Thursday, a message upon Executive business was received from the President. A number of unimportant resolutions and petitions were offered, also several memorials, adverse to the removal of the deposits. The report of the Committee on the Judiciary, in relation to the Pension Fund was made the order of the day, for Friday week.—The Senate then proceeded to Executive business and shortly after adjourned.

In the House Mr. J. Q. Adams offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to report to this House, a statement of all the sums denominated in the Treasury accounts, unavailable funds; specifically designating the several Banks or individuals indebted to the Treasury therefor; the time when each debt first became due; the time when failure of payment thereof first occurred; the security, if any, which the public have for payment thereof, at any time, and the prospect of such eventual payment.

The House then resumed the consideration of the resolution of Mr. Mardis. Judge Clayton spoke at considerable length, and before concluding gave way, to proceed to the order of the day. Mr. Brown then addressed the House in support of the bill on Revolutionary Claims, and shortly after an adjournment took place.
