

Georgia.—In reply to Judge Clayton of Georgia on the subject of the opinions delivered by him in relation to the gold mines in the Cherokee territory Chancellor Kent, has written a long letter, in which he says—“In relation to the constitutional validity of the statute. I am entirely with you, and in my opinion, your argument is sound and conclusive.”