

In a late debate on the 'Tariff,' Mr. Clayton of Georgia said that 'he was the owner of the only cotton factory in Georgia, and had doubled a capital of 50,000 dollars in two years.'