
Mr. Clayton said recently in a speech against the Tariff, that he was the owner of the only Cotton manufactory in Georgia, and that he had doubled a capital of $20,000 in two years. He had acted as a sponge on his neighbors, and had sucked up their hard earnings. So, he said, he was with all the manufacturers.—Aug. Courier