

During the sitting of the Superior Court of Clark county last week, one white man and two Indians were brought before Judge Clayton, arrested under a writ of re-junction issued by the Judge against them and others some time previous, for trespass in the gold region of the Cherokee territory. They were admitted to bail, to stand their trials at Hall Superior Court, within the jurisdiction of which Court the crimes were committed.