

On the last page, our readers will find an important decision made by Judge Clayton, relative to the powers of Corporations. The press of matter obliged us, reluctantly, to put it in that rather unusual place of such articles.

Several Communications have been received, and postponed for the want of room—Sidney among the rest. Its merits entitle it to consideration. If we overcome our objections to its length, it shall have a place.