

Mr. Niles—he of the Register—is so much delighted with certain essays in favor of Indian Rights and against the Rights of Georgia signed—for the sake of effect—“William Penn” and published at Washington—that he proposes to have them bound in pamphlet form. Be it so. We as Georgians can have no objection—but we beg leave to stick a rider upon Mr. Niles’ proposition. Let Governor Troup’s messages upon the same interesting subject and the solemn contract of the United States with Georgia for the extinguishment of the Indian title, be added to the volume. Thus the antidote will accompany the poison—and the puny effort of a pseudo-humanity be rendered entirely harmless.—Constitutionalist.
